Congrats to our superheroes at the @witqld awards #techgirls #STEM @pawsoutteam (/news/2016/9/5/congrats-to-our-superheroes-at-the-witqld-awards)

WE ARE SO VERY PROUD OF OUR SUPERHEROES WHO COMPETED IN THE ANNUAL WOMEN IN TECHNOLOGY AWARDS!

Congratulations to Mathilde Desselle, a TGM Board Member, WIT Board Member, and Program Coordinator / Antibiotics Hunter at the University of Queensland who took out the Professional Award

"Winning this award is a great validation of what I achieved to date in the space of health sciences and open-access research, and of my vision for the future for advancing human health. I feel very honoured to be recognised as a leader in my field among a high level of incredibly talented women in technology" says Mathilde.

Congratulations also to Gemma Lloyd, Co-Founder of Diverse City Careers who won the Entrepreneur Award

"Receiving this award for something we're so passionate about and have worked so hard on is a dream come true. Over the last two years, whilst starting a business isn't easy, seeing clients attract talented women, and seeing those women gain employment with truly supportive employers has been incredibly rewarding. I'm excited for DCC's continued growth within Australia as the number one jobs platform for women, and for our next phase of expanding the platform globally"

Congratulations also to our upcoming featured superhero Dr. Catherine Ball who was runner-up in the Entrepreneur Award category. Talk about tough competition!

Catherine - our very own Dame of Drones - will be one of 4 new stories featured in our new edition of Tech Girls Are Superheroes 2 due out soon! You will have to wait to see her awesome avatar :)

We had a great time with Team Pawsout and other guests hosted by TechnologyOne. Don't forget to support their GoFundMe campaign here (<https://www.gofundme.com/pawsout>).
